ACADEMIC POLICIES

ACADEMIC APPEALS POLICY
Approved: June 2008

Vermont College of Fine Arts assures that students have access to a process for the reconsideration of academic evaluations, advancement decisions and other academic actions of the programs. These processes vary somewhat between programs, but generally require that the appeal be considered first at the program level, with an ultimate decision by the Academic Dean as a final recourse.

Full information on the procedures of each program may be found in the Student Handbook.
